

Abstract

Proposed is a semiconductor arrangement and a method for manufacturing the semiconductor arrangement, which allow an improvement in the current-carrying capacity for given chip dimensions. The semiconductor arrangement includes trenches 5 introduced in the interior of the chip, in order to reduce power loss and improve the heat dissipation of the chip.

10 (Figure 1a)